Seniors 23

The senior annual should be a record of the school year. It is a picture of Central High, showing all the things that comprise it. A year book is a remembrance of the activities and happenings of the graduating class's senior year. It is the senior's gift to the school. The purpose of this book is to preserve in lasting print the memories of this past year.

1961-1962 has been the rehabilitation and rejuvenation of Central. It has seen many innovations, such as a new Public Address system and the redecorating of the building. An ultra-modern language laboratory has been installed. Central welcomed a new principal. The new Student Council room, number 1962, has become a refuge for seniors from 2:00 to 3:00. The year has truly been a momentous one. We had the opportunity of hearing the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra in an assembly. This was the year of the "twist". This was the year the United States attempted to send a man into space. 1962, an important year, the year we were graduated from high school.

Academic Life . . . 67

Dearest,
Havent it been fun(?) in

Bett

Hi - I sure think I've gone this year, has been fun being in Chem. with you. Best of luck to a real sweet gal. Kay Williams.

Delores, I'm happy that we got in a few classes together at my years at Central. My best wishes for luck in future years. Jani.

Central High School has been good to us. The graduating class has progressed and matured since entering the school. We have proceeded through sophomoreic doubt, junior sophistication, and senior cynicism. Central has afforded us many opportunities. It is now up to us, the class of 1962, to take advantage of these opportunities. We are in the midst of the soaring sixties. Will we soar? Will we reach new heights and attain higher goals? Will we be something of which to be proud? These are all very provoking questions, and it is up to us, the class of 1962, to find the answers.

"You who have dreams, if you act, they will come true." . . . The 1962 Cehisean endeavors to depict these dreams that have been realized for the students of Central during this school year. We have been given the opportunity to make these dreams become reality. We shall be eternally grateful.

This club meets to broaden and stimulate the interests of those interested in speech and related fields. Much is learned concerning debating, extemporaneous speaking. Many of its members have been successful in interesting debate meets in the state, some successful in speech and oratorical contests. The success of many of the assemblies at Central High School is due to the participation of the majority of the Speech Club members.

Delores, Miss Bawker is class a change. Hee is sure was fun but I learned more from Mr. Hoff. I yearn more miss you next year will miss take 900. Wendy Wilson Opportunities . . .

*To every man there openeth a way, and ways.
The high soul climbs the high way, the low soul the low;
And in between on the misty flats, the rest drift to and fro;*

The theme, "Opportunities", announces the plans, hopes and ambitions of each senior member ready to graduate from Central High School. Each is eagerly anticipating the "Opportunities" to be "offered".

Faculty members are often questioned and receive letters from young people or their parents asking where the best opportunities for the future lie. It is most important to emphasize that special opportunities do not exist in a particular industry or profession—they exist within men themselves.

Education has a larger aim than preparing young people for the opportunity to be cut into the same pattern, content to sit back and enjoy what has been called "a prosperous conformity". But America will always have room for imaginative, reasonable, and responsible men and women. And it desperately needs informed and truly creative young people.

The teacher's mission is to help every young person in his care grow into the broadest, deepest, most vital person possible. And in fulfilling himself the student will arrive

*But to every man there openeth a high way and a low,
And every man decideth the way he will go.*

—Author Unknown

at moments of heightened insight when he sees more clearly than ever before what the world is about and how he can fit into it creatively and significantly.

Viewed in this way, young people turn to education because they want to realize their full capacity as human beings, to find major pleasure in learning, to live richly and responsibly, and to do their part to help create a better world.

We wish for each Graduating Senior the "Opportunities" to live a rich and rewarding life by making that opportunity for himself—asking for it, dreaming about it, seeing it and making the most of it. May opportunity encompass your larger aims. Good Luck.

*"No one saves us but ourselves;
No one can and no one may,
We ourselves must walk the Path,
Teachers merely show the way."*

—Nancy Wilson Ross
"The Return of Lady Brace"

Central High School, which was founded in 1866, is Saint Paul's oldest high school. At first, it was located on the third floor of the old Franklin School on Broadway Street, but later it was moved to rented quarters on the second floor of the Lindeke Building at Seventh and Jackson Streets. Then, in 1883, Central High School had the first building of its own. It was located at Tenth and Minnesota Streets. Finally, in 1909, the construction of the present building was begun, and in 1911, it was ready for use.

The first graduating class, the class of 1870, consisted of two students, but since that time, Central High School has graduated 24,484 students. Ten years ago the average number of graduates was about 350, and today, this number has increased to an average of 600.

Central students in September found the halls cluttered with painters' drop cloths and ladders and plasterers' scaffolding. Classes were shifted about to keep ahead of these men as they finished their summer-long project of redecorating the building. Later in the fall, frequent interruptions in the classrooms announced the testing of the new public address system. Christmas vacation provided much of the time for installation of our new foreign language laboratory.

All of these inconveniences represented much needed and long sought improvements. As the year progressed we could appreciate the brightness and cleanliness reflected by our renovated building, the dependable and efficient homeroom announcements over the public address system and the fluent German, French, and Spanish emanating from the language laboratory. Each has served to make the students' education at Central more profitable and more enjoyable.

COUNSELORS . . .

Mrs. M. Robinson is the senior guidance counselor. She enjoys reading and traveling.

Counseling services this year were enlarged by the addition of Mrs. Ruth Wannamaker, formerly an English teacher, to the counseling staff. The counselors help students plan and adjust their academic programs. An extensive battery of tests is administered annually by the counseling office, including the Iowa tests, Minnesota Scholastic Aptitude Test, English Co-Op, Kuder and Strong interests tests, the college admission tests, such as the College Boards, ACT, and National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests. The counseling office has enlarged both its collection of information regarding college admission requirements, and its vocational file, which is available to students and teachers.

Mr. T. Brodie is the counselor of the sophomore class.

Mr. K. Bergstrom is the junior counselor. His interests are reading and fishing.

Mrs. E. Conant is the Dean of Girls, and the advisor of Girls' League.

Mrs. R. Wannamaker counsels the freshman class. She likes knitting and fishing.

SPECIAL . . .

The sight-saving class in the past year has added five listening posts to its room. This enables the student to listen to a pre-recorded lesson on tape.

Miss L. Bach teaches the acoustically handicapped. Her special interests are music, Political Science, and travel.

Mrs. L. Daenzer teaches the blind and partially sighted children.

Mr. E. McGee teaches special classes and advises the table tennis club and the model maniacs.

... SCIENCE

The science department has a very well-rounded curriculum. Included in it is the D Program, in which students who show exceptional scientific ability are grouped into accelerated classes. In addition, CHEMS is a dynamically new course composed of students who were chosen to experiment on new methods of learning which emphasize laboratory techniques rather than normal classroom work. Several members of the department lecture on educational television throughout the school year, while others attend summer institutes sponsored by the National Defense Education Act.

Mr. J. Ring is head of the science department. He also advises the Philosophy Club.

Mr. R. Benepe is the assistant B football coach and is in charge of the newly formed wrestling team.

Mr. F. Brett advises the Future Scientists of America and the Model Maniacs. He likes fishing and gardening.

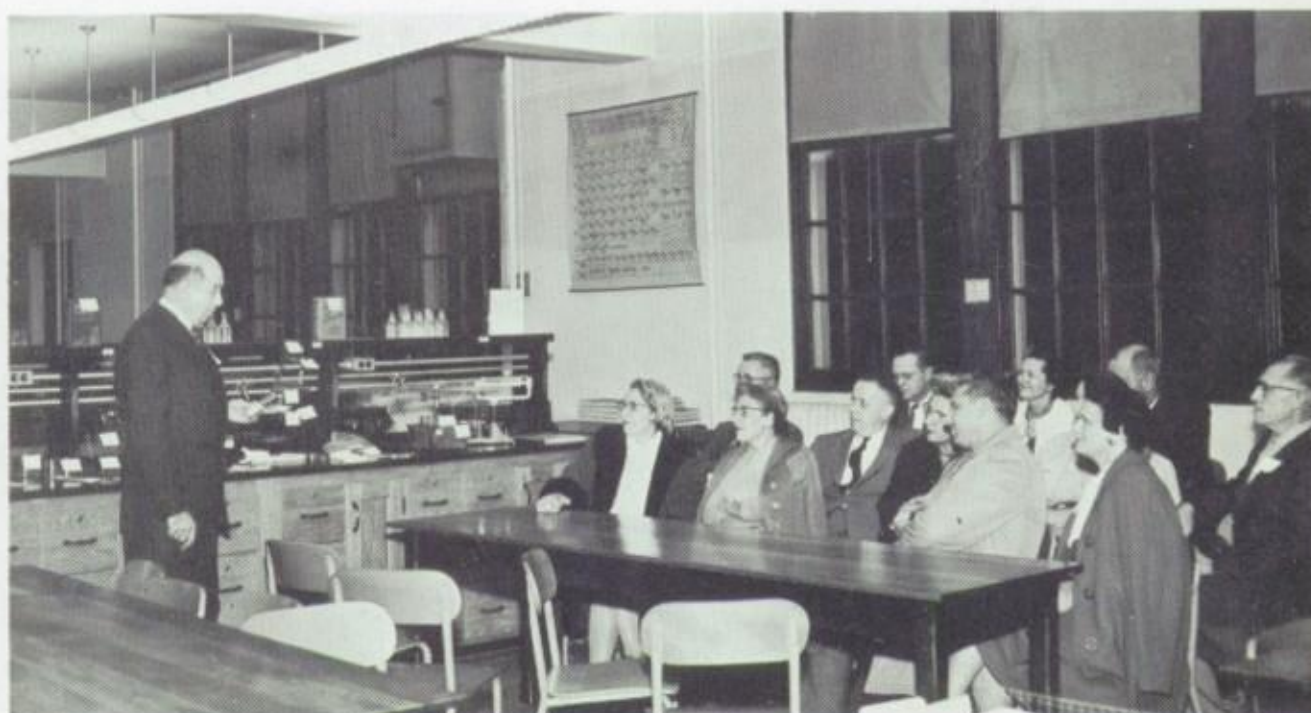

Mr. W. Gerdt enjoys photography, golf and bowling in his spare time.

Miss M. Hart teaches Biology 12D and regular biology classes.

Mr. Molkenbur explains the chemistry laboratory facilities to a group of parents at open house.

Mr. R. Molkenbur advises the Audio-Visual Staff and the Chemistry Club. In his spare time, he works with the boy scouts and the cub scouts.

Mr. R. Muetzel, who is in charge of the Stage Force, enjoys all sports and sporting events.

Mrs. E. Schmit likes reading, bridge, golf, and swimming. She advises the Minutemaids.

Mr. R. Tangen likes all different sports.

MATHEMATICS . . .

Mr. P. Anderson, as well as being head of the Mathematics Department, also advises the Math Club.

Like members of other departments, the mathematics faculty is engrossed in teaching the latest methods, among them being the school mathematics study group (MSG). Hand-picked by the teachers, these students work a great deal on their own. This not only requires ability but also a strong spirit of conscientiousness on the part of the student. In addition, other accelerated classes are offered, among them being those of the D program in which the best students are grouped into special classes.

Miss E. Bauleke teaches Algebra and Geometry. She enjoys driving.

Mr. L. Bradle enjoys hiking, rifle and pistol marksmanship, and the study of nature.

Mr. N. Dunkel is the Junior Class Advisor and was a chaperone on the Senior Class Trip this year.

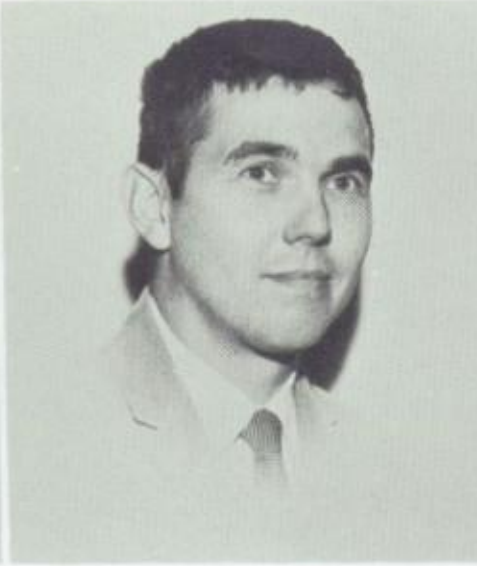

Mr. J. Hoff is the advisor of Track and B Basketball. His hobby is coaching.

. . . MATHEMATICS

Mr. N. Johnson is the co-advisor of the table-tennis club. Photography is his hobby.

Mr. W. Koenen advises the Chess Club. He likes to read in his spare time.

Mr. J. Lund enjoys hunting, fishing, camping, reading, and music in his leisure time.

Mr. S. Thorson is the coach of both Golf and B-Squad Football.

BUSINESS . . .

Mr. W. Gavin's special interests are the growing of trees and reforestation.

Mrs. Berntsen is the advisor of Central High School's High School Red Cross. Her hobbies are reading, traveling, and handicraft.

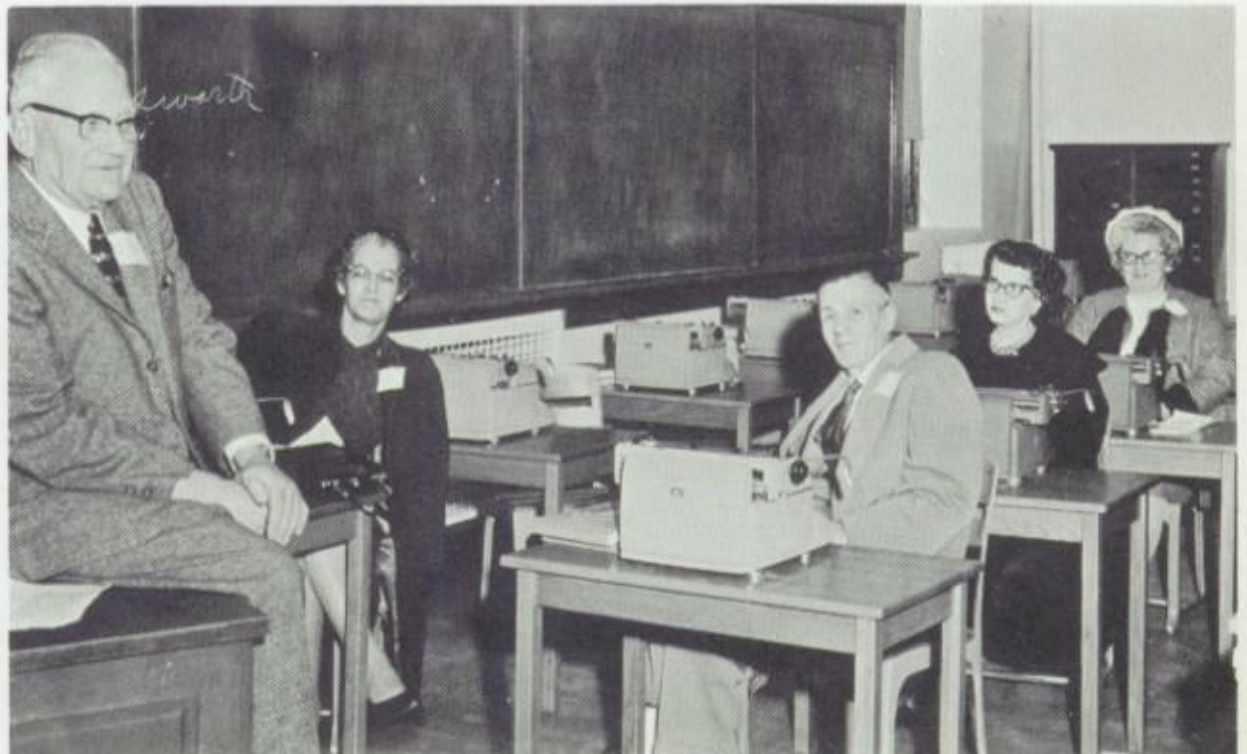

Miss A. Koehler is the advisor of Pep Club and Future Teachers. She likes reading and outdoor activities.

Mr. J. Ryan is the Bursar of the school and the Athletic Director. His special interest is sports.

Mr. K. Daniels advises the Future Office Leaders. His hobbies are hunting, camping, and photography.

Mr. Gavin discusses the curriculum with a group of parents.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES . .

Mrs. E. Swanson is head of the Language Department and the advisor of the German Club. Her special interest centers around her family.

Miss L. Flitch is the advisor of the Latin Club. Her hobbies are swimming, cooking, and reading.

The most important innovation introduced at Central in recent years is the language laboratory. After two years of planning at a cost of 8,250 dollars, this new electronic classroom will enable students to speak and listen to their favorite language via tape recording at the turn of a dial or the press of a button. The laboratory is doing for audio-lingual phase of the language what the textbook has done for the reading-writing aspect of learning. No longer is emphasis being placed on translation, for learning a language is not a decoding procedure.

Mrs. M. Fleming is the co-advisor of the Spanish Club. Her spare time is taken up with painting in water colors, figure skating, and building a library of books and records.

Mrs. M. Moen is the co-advisor of the Spanish Club. She likes outdoor life, travel, music, and arts.

Mr. R. Smith advises the Chess Club. Chess, wood-working, and archery are his special interests.

Mr. R. Temple's special interest is his new electric saw.

Mr. M. Therrien is the French Club and Cehisean advisor. His spare time is taken up in driving the Cehisean staff.

The audio-active evaluate process in action. To the layman this means that the students are listening to a voice, imitating it and playing both back to evaluate their response.

... ENGLISH

The English Department has always been and still is one of the most important divisions of learning at Central High. Once strictly a woman's department, it has been gradually infiltrated by the men, whose membership now comprises over one-half of its faculty. This change alone should emphasize the fact that English is required of all students, not only as a credit, but also as a prerequisite for future education, and job opportunities for boys as well as girls.

Mrs. J. Albrecht is the co-advisor of the Paint 'n' Patches Club. Her hobbies are travel and music. She is also the head of the English Department.

Mrs. Borchardt's special interest is writing.

Mr. J. Castle is the Swimming coach. His spare time is spent hunting and fishing.

Miss Corbey is the advisor of Usherettes. Her special interests are Renaissance and Baroque art and reading.

Mr. T. Curtis is the advisor of the Senior Class. Golf, skiing, and all water sports are his special interests.

Mr. V. Hubal is the Baseball coach and the Business advisor to the Times. He enjoys hiking, swimming, and reading.

Miss M. Korfhage is the Senior Y-Teen Co-ordinator. Her hobbies are reading, knitting, and working in the yard.

Mr. R. Issacson enjoys the outdoor sports of hunting and fishing.

Mr. Curtis here consults with a student's parents at the P.T.A. Open House.

ENGLISH . . .

Mr. J. Liesch is an advisor of Contact and lists hunting, fishing, and reading as his hobbies.

Mr. W. McDonald is the advisor of Intra-mural football and track. Reading is his hobby.

Mr. J. Robideaux lists hunting, fishing, and camping as well as gardening as his hobbies.

Mr. P. Schultz is the advisor of the Times.

SOCIAL STUDIES . . .

Mr. M. Johnson is the head of the Social Studies Department and the advisor of Ski Club. Kite flying, woodworking, and camping are his interests.

Because Social Studies and History are required at all levels, recent national world situations call for a new approach in methods of teaching. Current events are being emphasized now more than ever. Live discussions of immediate interest to all students are being carried out in virtually all classes. This requires the students to be especially alert as to the happenings of the day in view of the fact that they will too cope with similar problems within a few years after graduation.

Miss L. Asher likes reading, music, cooking, and seeing new places in her spare time.

Mr. D. Ausemus lists the Student Council, the Locker Force, and the Bookstore as his school activities.

Mr. R. Ellsworth likes sports and woodworking in his spare time.

Mr. G. Katz is the advisor of B Hockey and Intra-mural Basketball and Golf. His special interest is to get through the day.

Wm Martin SOCIAL STUDIES

Mr. W. Kirkwood is the advisor of the International Relations Club. His special interests include foreign affairs and politics. His hobbies are book collecting and woodworking.

Mr. D. Mallinger lists fishing and golf as his hobbies.

Mr. W. Martin is the Football coach. He likes to be a spectator at sports events, weekend camping, and home woodwork.

Mr. M. Moilanen enjoys athletics and home wood-working.

Mrs. F. Norbeck uses her spare time by reading and taking an interest in arts and music.

Mr. E. Peterson teaches American History.

Mrs. M. Topdahl is a U. N.E.S.C.O. delegate. She likes to travel and enjoys the Teachers' Organizations and Legislation.

Mr. J. Fahay is the advisor to the Study Hall Monitors.

Here is Room 116 Mrs. Topdahl is engrossed in explaining many of the areas of the world which are covered in World History to parents of Central students.

ART AND SPEECH . . .

Mr. W. Nelson is interested in antique and Early American painting.

Miss V. Chiglo advises the National Thespians, and the Paint 'n' Patches Club. Her hobbies are chess, reading, cooking, theater, and horseback riding.

Mrs. Hayes is the assembly advisor and the Speech Club advisor. Her hobbies are Duplicate Bridge, theater, and music.

The speech department is not only interested in teaching speech but also acquainting the students with its related fields of debating, acting, and extemporaneous, oratory, and public speaking. It is under their direction that the plays and many of our assemblies have become successful.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION . . .

Mrs. R. B. Anderson is the advisor of the Cheerleaders and G.A.A. Sailing is her hobby.

Mr. J. Fritsche is the advisor of the winter intramural program.

Mr. C. Kelly is the Basketball and Cross-country coach.

Miss E. Ryan is the advisor of G.A.A. Her spare time is taken up with travel and reading.

Football coaches, Mr. Sauer and Mr. Martin, analyze condition of the team at practice.

Mr. Wolf is the advisor of the Gymnastics Team coach. Swimming, golf, classical music, gymnastics, and photograph tinting are his hobbies.

... MUSIC

Of special interest to second year students at Central is the addition of a new course to the music curriculum. Sophomore chorus rounds out the department's aim to give our students an opportunity to participate in music appreciation at all levels. The major project of the department is the Operetta. This production takes but two hours to perform yet requires three months of preparation. A host of extra-curricular activities such as Junior and Senior Ensembles, the Octets and Quartets, the Monday Melody Makers, and the Nason trio are available for those students whose appreciation for music goes beyond the regular class hour.

Mr. S. Bulka likes to read and fish.

Miss A. Denzel likes singing. She is the teacher of A Choir and the Ensembles.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS ...

Mr. W. Andrews likes all sport activities.

Mr. V. Hildebrandt is in charge of the Gym lockers.

Mr. L. Kacalek enjoys hunting, fishing, stamp and coin collections, travel, and hobby crafts.

Mr. T. Sauer is the Hockey, Football, and Tennis coach. His special interests are sports of all kinds and construction work.

HOME ECONOMICS ...

Mrs. E. Cuthbert lists house planning, furnishing, sewing, and cooking as her hobbies.

Mrs. B. Hall spends her spare time knitting and sewing. Her special interest is interior decorating.

Mr. Molkenbur wishes Mrs. Fleming a Merry Christmas at the faculty Christmas party.

LIBRARY . . .

Mrs. Gamble is the advisor of the Library Club. Her special interest is the new language laboratory that was set up at school this year.

Miss N. Walsh says that she is a part-time international spy in her spare time.

The library this year expanded its facilities to include five new sets of encyclopedias and the new McGraw-Hill Science Encyclopedia. The art, science, and mathematics sections were greatly increased as a result of a three hundred dollar gift from the class of 1936. Also in the library this year are art prints, works by students in art and craft classes, and seasonal decorations which add another dimension to the library.

The annual Christmas part, which required enormous preparation, included invitations to all former teachers of Central High School. This year a voice recital was given by Miss Denzel.

PERSONNEL . . .

Mrs. H. Callahan is the school nurse.

Mrs. E. Clark is the assistant to the nurse.

The smooth functioning of the school depends to a great extent upon the personnel — the nurse's office, the main office, and the cafeteria and custodial staffs. The nurse's office this year administered Mantoux Tests to the entire student body and administration. The main office performs the monumental task of processing 250 absentee cards every day. The cafeteria increased its facilities, adding one hot lunch line and reopening the balcony to students.

. . . PERSONNEL

Miss M. Sas is the registrar and secretary to our principal.

Mrs. H. Jahnke is an office clerk.

Mrs. E. Wiebel is a clerk in the office.

Mrs. C. Sawyer is the music clerk.

Elected in the spring of their junior year, the senior class officers begin early in the summer preparing for next year's activities. The senior class trip, in which 150 students participated, took many months of planning. The first mixer of the year, the FOOT-BALL, was another product of their labors. Collection of class dues and distribution of class pins also occupy their time. Most important, they are responsible for the arrangements for graduation, including cap and gown, announcements, Senior Day, and post-graduation festivities. Below are Al Grey, Senior class president, and Mr. Curtis, advisor, discussing plans for graduation.

Being a specialized entity, every organism produces or performs an organism can survive in that particular environment. Therefore, the same organism, as did the others, measures the same principles and consequences of aggregation. In this chapter, we shall deal with two major concepts: the nature of a species and the nature of a community. As one of the species, we shall also examine the society, and as one of the community, we shall examine the community living, we shall examine the community and other ecological associations.

The Species

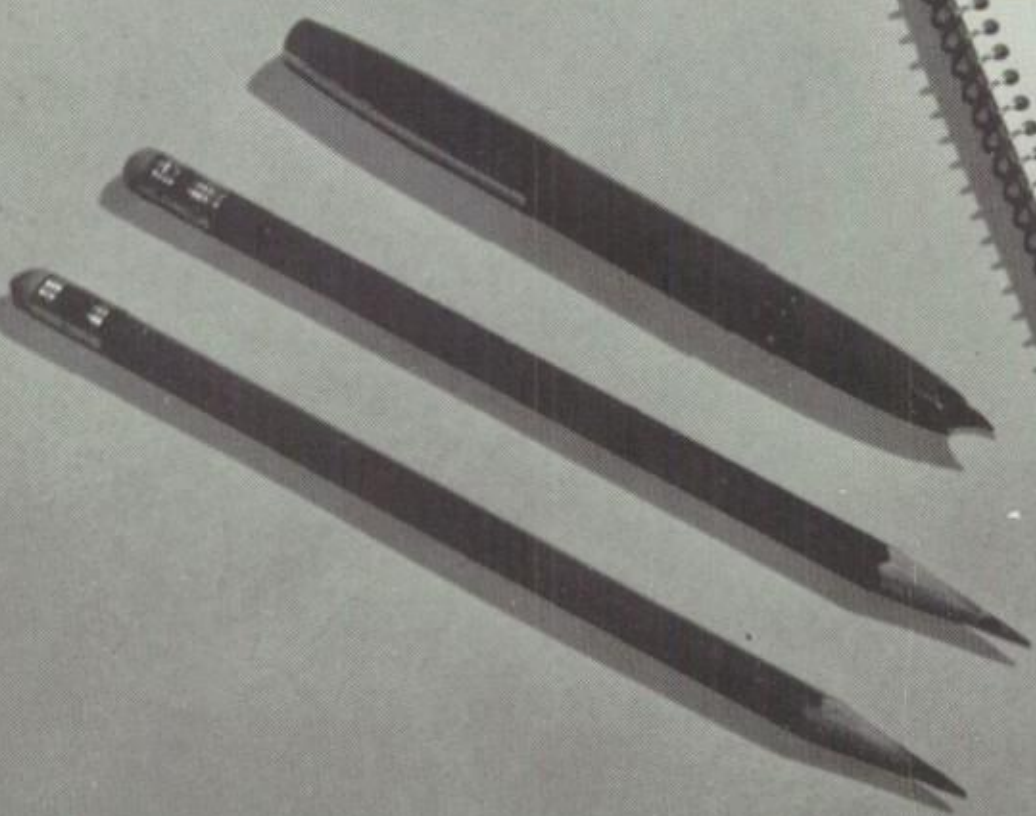

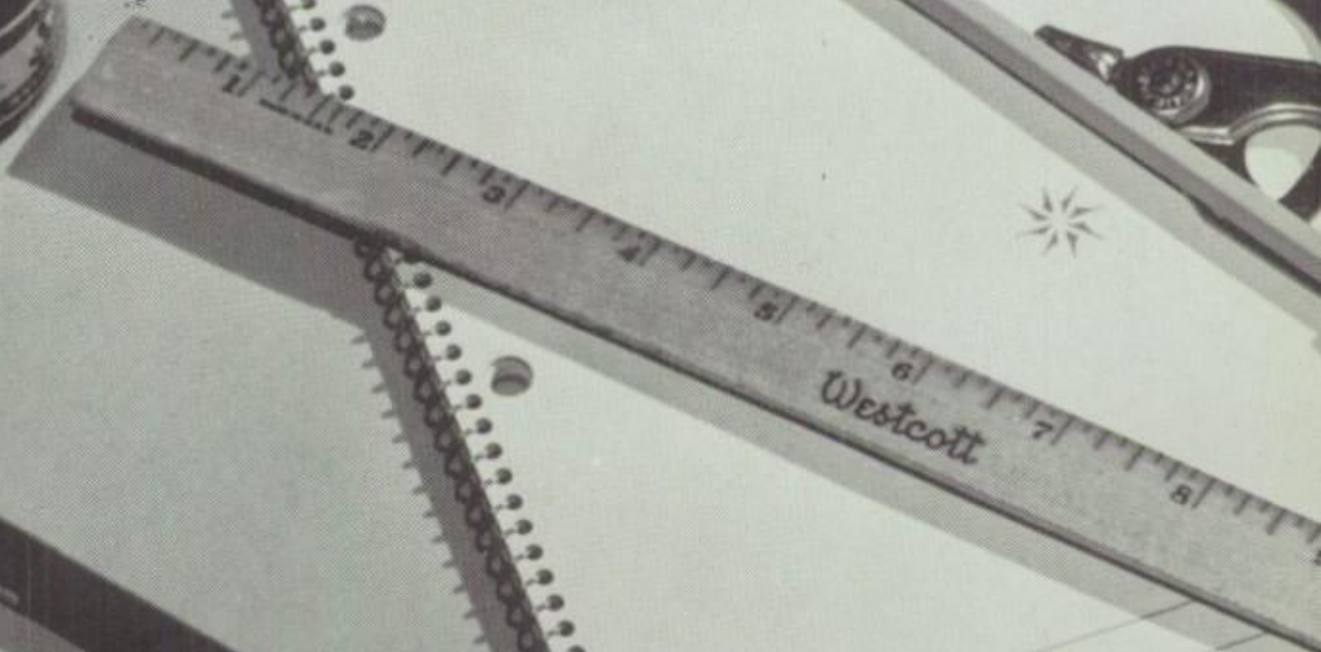

THE NATURE OF A SPECIES

Individual organisms of the same kind are aggregated into a series of organizational units. The smallest such unit is the family, a rather temporary type of association and necessarily characteristic of every kind of organism. Also, there are less temporary, and typical of only certain organisms, are the larger associations of families of the same kind into societies, but, whether or not like organisms form societies, tribes, and nations, they always form local populations.

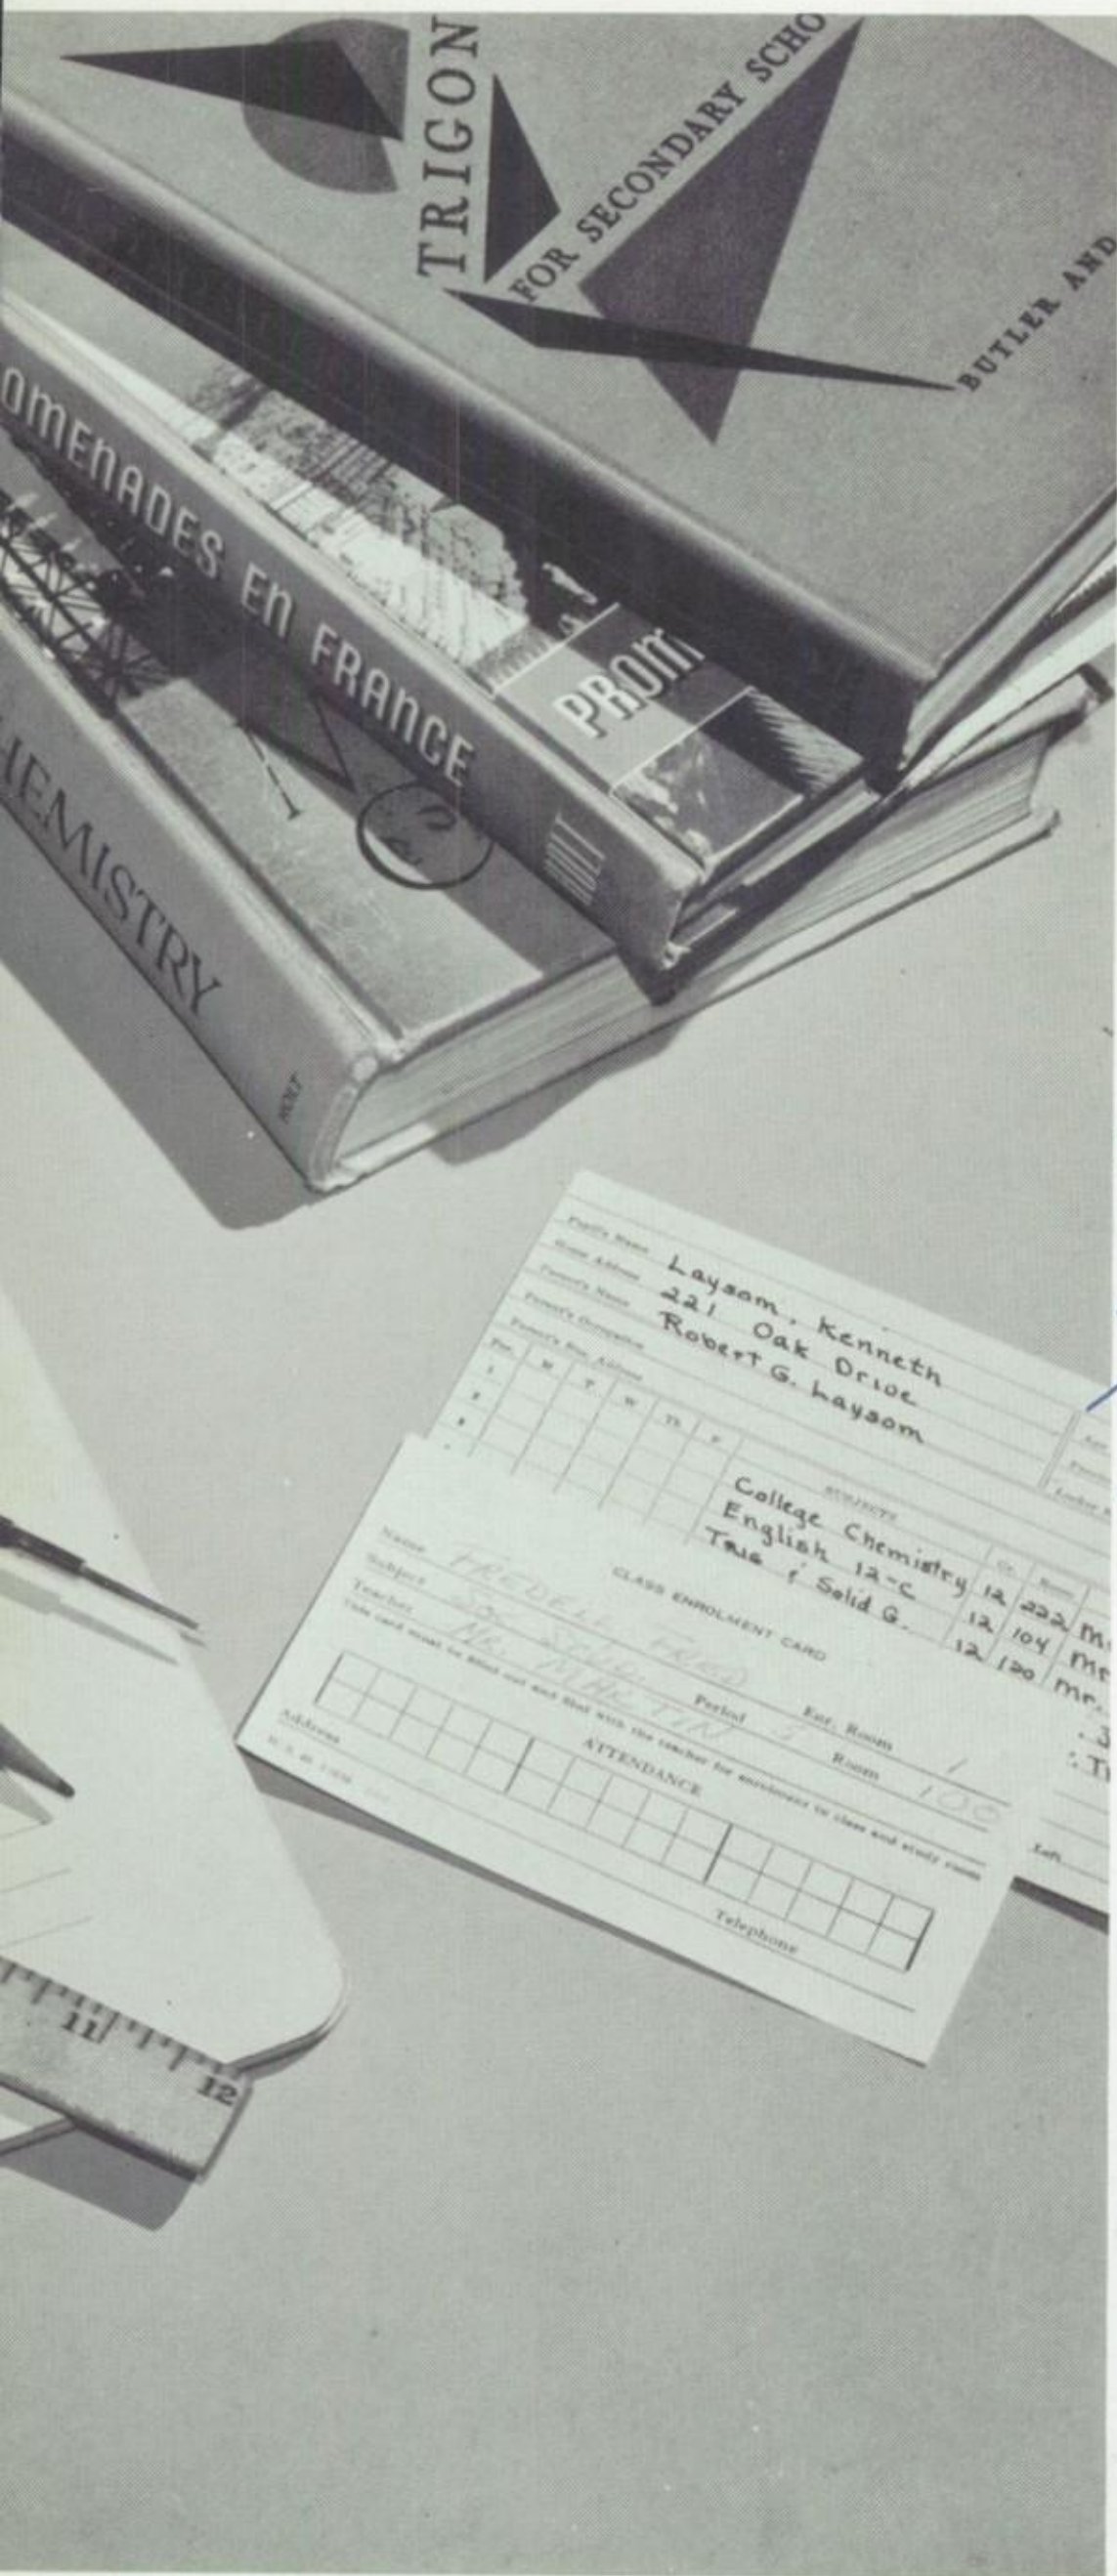

A population is a relatively permanent group of organisms of the same kind, characterized by all types of organisms. The distinction is a field, the group is a forest, the community is a plot of soil, the community is a pond, and the people in a village, all are examples of local populations. Individual organisms multiply and the community or

Delores,

Sorry about the mistake in the front, but you know what a scatterbrain I am. It been such a riot at the track meets, years in homes and 11-12s. I hope we'll get together in the years to come. I wish you much success and happiness and hope to see you at the 5 year reunion.

JUNIORS . . .

CLASS OFFICERS

The long-awaited day finally arrived and the class of "63" found themselves upperclassmen. Everyone turned out to vote for class officers. After the excitement of elections, the enthusiastically received class officers ably assumed the responsibilities of class leadership with the help and guidance of their expert advisor, Mr. Dunkel.

In December an enthusiastic audience proved R. U.

R. the Junior Class play, was worth the effort put into it. Other events of the year were Junior essays, Girl's and Boy's State, and the receiving of our new class rings.

The most important and most worked for event of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom. Thanks to the hard work of Central's Juniors it was a grand success!

After discussing plans for the Junior Senior Prom, Mr. Dunkel and Steve look hopeful.

Semi-upper Classmen at Work . . .

Junior essays require a great amount of research. Hmmm, wonder why everybody else picked the same subject I did?

Looks just like what Mother makes.

With the problems and frustrations of their freshman year behind them, the class of "64" settled down to the business of initiating Freshmen, welcoming new class members, and studying intently. Their first class function was to elect Jeff Nelson, President; Sue Tucker, Vice-President; Bob Lynn, Treasurer; Sue Compton, Secretary

Along with their advisor, Mr. Kirkwood, the officers planned their first big project, the Sweetheart dance, which was a huge success. Upon completion of their Sophomore year, they anticipated a wonderful Junior year.

Mr. Kirkwood and Jeff discuss the problems of the Sophomore Class.

FRESHMEN . . .

Another step up the ladder of success was taken this year by the Central class of "65", as they entered a new realm of learning, that of the high school. A new world of education was open to them for the asking, besides the beginnings of many joys, loves, and sorrows. When they look back over the year they will always remember the excitement of the first football game, the thrill of Snow-Day and Homecoming, the fear of being tardy, the shyness in making acquaintances, the finding of rooms, getting your locker open, and the difficulty in looking up both mentally and physically to the upperclassmen. But the freshmen have only penetrated the opportunities at Central and they are now anticipating the next three years to see what lies in store for them.

ETRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES . . .

Some of the student's most important high-school memories are experienced through his extra-curricular activities. Here the student has a chance to become a more well rounded individual.

Student council president Don Gruber and advisor Mr. D. Ausemus, here consulting on an upcoming student council meeting, are to be found in the new student council room in the cafeteria every morning and afternoon.

. . . STUDENT COUNCIL

The student Council is thought by many to be the most important student organization of Central. The larger body is composed of elected representatives from each homeroom, and is known as the student council, while the smaller group, the executive council, is chosen by and from the homeroom representatives.

Charity drives, sponsorship of American Field Service students, homecoming and Sno-Day are a few of the many functions which the student council performs. But perhaps its most important function is to give its members the opportunity to develop leadership qualities and practice democratic principles.

Future Teachers of America is the club to belong to if you are interested in teaching as a profession. Teaching methods, certification, teacher qualifications, and the problems which face a teacher are some of the topics discussed during the meeting. Highlights of the year are the F.T.A. luncheon, visit to public schools for practical teaching experience, and attendance at F.T.A. workshops and convention.

This group donates an hour of their school day in assisting the guidance department. They gain valuable experience in clerical duties by doing everything from typing reports to answering phones and delivering messages.

ROW 1: Maxine Goldstein, Barb Moe, Bonnie Berkowitz, Judii Steimer, Kathy Watson, Edith Cohen. ROW 2: Marie Aarthun, Genepe Youngren, Leslie Johnson, Anita Parker, Sharon Hodgins, Judy Mahr, Janet Carney.

MAIN OFFICE HELPERS

The office helpers also do their share. Their duties consist of aiding the office clerks by delivering messages, answering phones, and checking the attendance list.

ROW 1: Barb Bowen, Marilyn Koch, Jean Hammerstrom, Nancy Brazeman, Carole Kieffer, Joann Mercado, Garda Weir.
ROW 2: Judy Levinson, Kathy Szenay, Vonnie Taggart, Gloria Lovejoy, Reecie Goldfarb, Inez Adamson, Sandra Johnson,
Delores Watkins. ROW 3: Anne Hanson, Mary Lee McAndrew, Angel Flickman, Rochelle Marvi, Lorna Killa, Mary Lou Cowan, Jane Flowers, Kathy Walker.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Current events on an international plane are the concern of the International Relations Club, advised by Mr. W. Kirkwood. Highlights of the club's year include presentation of an assembly in February, participation in world affairs seminars at area high schools, and meetings which spotlighted speakers such as the A.F.S. students.

ROW 1: Marcy Shapiro, Mr. William Kirkwood, Advisor, Susan Lampland, Secretary, Dave Otterness, Historian, Charles Robertson, Jim Rosenbaum, Don Roberts.

BOOKSTORE

Girls on the Bookstore Staff work before school and during lunches in the cage in the lunchroom. School Supplies, book covers, lost and found items, and other needed items for students may be found here. In the picture above, Nancy Lynch, Jane Flad, and Jennifer Cutts help a prospective buyer.

ROW 1: Wendy Gislason, Linda Brown, Jennifer Cutts, Nancy Lynch, Judy Howie. ROW 2: Jane Flad, Tomye Mendelsohn, Mary Hemingway, Mr. Ausemus, Advisor, Nancy Krook, Arlene Risedorph, Barbie Cairncross.

LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club consists of students who spend one hour per day assisting the librarians.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Girls' League's purpose is "to promote co-operation among girls in every type of service with endeavor to develop the finest characters and highest ideals," and has remained the same throughout the years. This year the girls collected games for children's Hospital. For Valentine's Day the League sponsored Val-o-grams. The turnabout dance was the big social event of the year. Central has every right to be proud of this fine service organization and its faithful, hard-working advisor, Mrs. E. Conant. The money raising project was the mint sale, the purpose of which was to support a child in Europe.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS

These students are preparing early for their future lives. They go to school in the morning and have "on the job" training in the afternoon. In this way they are ready to enter the business world immediately after graduation. One of their projects this year was a fund-raising activity in which they sold candy.

Members of Red Cross volunteer to assist at local hospitals, entertaining children, decorating at the holiday season and assisting the nurses. They also work at the Red Cross office, helping with administrative work. This year the organization participated in an international program of collecting postage stamps. The group is advised by Mrs. E. Conant.

ROW 1: Diana Bauer, Marcia Witzany, Corresponding Secretary, Kathy Bartels, Margaret Watson, President, Marlene Cohen, Vice President, Cheryl Waldon, Treasurer, Carol Craig, Linda Balko. PAINT 'N PATCHES

Behind the scenes of all class plays, operettas, and other shows is the Paint 'N' Patches crew. Tryouts are held in the fall for those who are or have been speech or speech-debate students. Applying the skills they learn at meetings throughout the year, the members of the crew make up the participants of the shows and do an outstanding job.

At the left are the Paint n' Patches crew and some of their friends who seem to think it is Halloween! Although they're fooling around now, their artistic talents add much to the theatrical productions at Central throughout the year.

USHERETTES

The Usherettes, advised by Miss E. Corbey, are an important part of Central High School productions. Teacher recommendations are required before an individual becomes a member. Qualities such as dependability and cooperation are important. Girls who belong to this group acquire poise and confidence while they are serving the school.

One model airplane contest has been held and several planned for the future by the boys of Central's model airplane club. These young aviators are working in controlled and free flight models. Membership is drawn from the entire student body and is open to anyone with a real desire to learn model making for competitive purposes.

TABLE TENNIS CLUB . . .

This fairly new club is fast becoming one of Central's most popular. It is a great club for making new friends, and an ideal way to forget your problems for a while.

The club is now enjoyngi its 3rd successful year. There's something very relaxing about batting that old ball back and forth.

ROW 1: Mr. N. A. Johnson, Advisor, Kathleen McMahon, Nancy Willis, Barbara Bolin, Carol Queener, Mike Ginther, Byron Brown, Mr. E. W. McGee, Advisor. ROW 2: Linda Chase, Norman Netzman, Walter Reed, Alan Rosenberg, Celia Ann Starks, Aida Valenzuela, Ruthie Silverberg. FUTURE SCIENTISTS OF AMERICA

Future Scientists of America, a new group of scientifically oriented students have been holding regular meetings, seminars, and workshops for the past two years at Central. These young people have demonstrated outstanding scholastic achievement in the academic areas and are currently working on scientific projects. Since the group must necessarily be limited in size, membership is selective and competitive.

Pep Club is the peppiest club in the school. Its members can be heard at games, assemblies, and before-school rallies, enthusiastically shouting cheers. At Homecoming the members sold pom-poms which were waved wildly, at the crucial moments of the games and brought the spirit for the winning point. This year one of Pep Club's projects was making a contribution to Central's Athletic Fund by a button sale. Thanks certainly to the Pep Club for promoting so much enthusiasm at all the athletic events. They have given our teams the spirit and support that they need to carry proudly the name of Central High.

. . . CHEERLEADERS

The spirit of the school this year was led by the enthusiastic cheerleaders who helped to cheer our teams to victory. The cheerleaders are a group of nine girls, eight regulars, and one alternate, under Pep Club. They were up with the styles this year with their new culottes and also new were their acrobatics. The hard work these girls put forth - practices, making uniforms, ticket sales, and many others - really lifted our school spirit and was much appreciated.

. . . MINUTEMAIDS

The Minutemaids are Central's precision drill team. This group of forty girls helps build spirit at athletic events and assemblies. This year, in addition to their regular appearances at school functions, the Minutemaids marched in the Winter Carnival parade.

In typical formation, the Central Minutemaids count cadence between halves.

LATIN CLUB

Any Latin student who has completed one semester with B-averages and who passes an examination is eligible for membership. A tradition is the annual Roman Banquet sponsored by the Latin Club. At this time new members are initiated by serving as slaves for the more seasoned members.

GERMAN CLUB

In its third year of existence Deutscher Verein, advised by Mrs. E. Swanson, has proved to be one active, busy organization. Weihnachten (Christmas) was celebrated in real German style with everything from a decorated Tannenbaum to Weihnachtslieder. Other programs included a pancake breakfast, films, initiations, exchange students and their slides, a display of old and new German articles, and the year's biggest highlight, the spring banquet at the Heidelberg.

ROW 1: Pat Imhoff, Claudia Johnson, Jennifer Cutts, Penny Esch, Ellen Mikulak, Perie Loughrey, Penny Dando, Arlene Rosenblum. Times staff members consult "Elmer", a stuffed loon, which presides over the paper's tower facilities. The bird was given to editor Barb Hunter by Governor Anderson. Staff members claim that the presence of a loon in the office enhances the quality of the paper.

TIMES STAFF . . .

A school paper traditionally reflects the spirit of the school as well as serving as an official record of the events of the school year. This function is performed at Central by the Times staff, headed by editors Susan Treat and Barb Hunter. This year the Times underwent three big changes: Mr. V. Hubal was named business advisor, Mr. P. Schultz became literary advisor, and the staff moved its headquarters to the newly revamped tower room. From this fourth story vantage point, the staff can better observe school life and put it into words.

CEHISEAN STAFF

The Cehisean staff is responsible for the school's year book, the Cehisean. The word "Cehisean" stands for Central High Senior Annual. Many, many long hours and much effort go into the creation of the annual. Imagination, creativity, and journalistic ability are some of the qualifications necessary for a staff member. The members try their best to produce a year book that will please and satisfy every member of the student body.

The devoted advisor surveys the day's happenings while the earnest, diligent staff busily organizes homeroom pictures. All freshman, sophomore, and junior homerooms are photographed with their teacher. Individual portraits of the faculty are taken at this time also. It is through the work and planning and scheduling of the academic editor that this process is carried out.

CHESS CLUB

Chess Club meets regularly under the direction of Mr. Koenen and Mr. Smith. The purpose of Chess Club is to teach the skilled and the unskilled in one of the world's oldest games. After members are more skilled they are eligible to enter into intra-school tournaments.

... Y-TEENS

The Y-teens are under the direct supervision of the Y.W.C.A. These groups of girls are striving to build an international fellowship of women and girls, dedicated to the task of achieving in their common life those ideals of living to which their faith commits them. Each group has service projects and lots of fun, for example: preparing a basket of food for a needy family at Thanksgiving or Christmas time, making favors for hospitals and homes for the aged, Christmas caroling in these same places, and sponsoring hayrides, pow-wows and dances. All the Central Y-teens groups joined in the fun of an inter-school banquet and style show as well as a basketball tournament. Here the girls get a chance to combine with the other Y-teens groups and exchange news and friendship. In November, the Y-teens from all over the city joined together and sponsored the annual Twilight Twirl dance which was a tremendous success.

... HI-Y

Central has the distinction of having organized the first Hi-Y chapter in St. Paul in 1915. The purpose of this organization, a branch of the Y.M.C.A., is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian Character". The Hi-Y's sponsor dances after the games, plus hayrides and parties. Each group tries to have a basketball team for inter-group competition.

The parliamentary procedure used by the boys gives them experience in running a democratic government. Each year the boys sponsor a candy sale for World Service, a 55-year-old organization. The money is used to expand the Y.M.C.A. movement in 78 countries. The motto, "Help the people to help themselves", is carried out by sending American specialists to teach in the Y.M.C.A. agricultural schools abroad.

MUSIC AND DRAMA . . .

Purpose of Music and Drama Organizations

Every extra-curricular activity at Central plays an important role in making the students well-rounded. The plays, the operetta, assemblies, and speech activities are all under the organizations such as Speech Club, Choir, Band, and Orchestra. The ultimate goal of these departments is to put into practical use the things the students have learned during the class day. Many hours of after-school practice are put in before the final tests are given — the clear note of brass, the sharp ting of a cymbal, the pert marching cadence, as the band marches on the green turf from goal to goal — the crucial moment at the turning point of the play when the inflections of the leading voices make or break the drama.

... SPEECH CLUB

This club meets to broaden and stimulate the interests of those interested in speech and related fields. Much is learned concerning debating and extemporaneous speaking. Many of its members have been successful in interesting debate meets in the state, some successful in speech and oratorical contests. The success of many of the assemblies at Central High School is due to the participation of the majority of the Speech Club members.

The A Choir is under the direction of Miss Arlys Denzel. Mrs. Sawyer is her assistant whose job it is to keep track of the choir members and to help relieve their troubled minds. The A Choir is one of the most outstanding choirs in the Twin Cities. Hundreds of people have been thrilled by the choir's performances. At Christmas time each year, the A Choir presents a moving program of Christmas music. The music show "Holiday U.S.A.", held in January was a big success. The highlights of the program were songs by the Nason Trio, an Irish jig, selections from the "Wizard of Oz", a soft shoe dance and duet, a skit by the Commercial girls, and a boys quartet. The musical play this year was "High Button Shoes", given in May.

Not many people realize how much work and effort go into the performances of the A Choir. Every afternoon quartets can be found practicing and rehearsing for future programs in the choir.

COMMERCIAL GIRLS . . .

The Commercial Girls are a speech organization at Central which dramatize and satirize commercials seen on television. They appear throughout the year at such Central functions as assemblies, P.T.A. meetings and the music shows, adding a delightful and humorous touch to these functions. They are under the direction of Mrs. Hayes and are a boost to Central activities.

. . . NATIONAL THESPIANS

National Thespians is an honorary society open to those Central students who have excelled in some area of speech. Before being admitted to the club, a potential member must earn a specified number of points by acting in a play, working on the stage crew, making sets and props, or some similar activity. CHORAL READERS . . .

The Choral Readers are an important part of our school programs. After a year of absence from Central, this group again enhances many school programs including the Speech-Music show and the Christmas assembly. This group of girls also meets together after school to read prose and poetry. Readings which they have shared with the student body vary from humorous readings, such as "Ogden Nashery," to serious readings, such as Carl Sandberg's "Chicago." Not only is this club enjoyed by its participants, but it helps them improve their expression and enunciation.

. . . NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

The National Forensic League is a national organization for students who have participated in debating. A candidate must have earned 25 points. These are won by participating in inter-school tournaments. Some of the most important events of the debate season were the tournaments at St. Olaf, and Hamline, and the state tournaments.

Percussion: Kathy Boutell, Mary Evans, Tony Blons, Bob Brands, Ron Butwin, Stuart Berde, Guy Chase, Alan O'Neil.

The Band is an integral part of Central school life. Some of the many functions which the band performs are adding a final touch at school assemblies, promoting school spirit at football, basketball, and hockey games, and playing at graduation. One of the highlights of the year, the band concert, was presented in April this year. The band not only serves the school but also provides a medium in which students can develop musical talent. It is under the direction of Mr. Stanley Bulka.

WING DAUBERS

The Wing Daubers belong to a group of newer clubs at Central. Their purpose is to create and construct the scenery which enhances the operettas, class plays, and assemblies here at school. The group not only obtains satisfaction and fun from their work, but they also become members of the Speech Club and receive points for membership in National Thespians. This group is under the direction of Miss Chiglo.

ORCHESTRA . . .

The orchestra is a recent outgrowth of the instrumental music department. Although small, it is slowly becoming an important addition to our school. One of its most important functions is to provide the accompanying music for the A Choir operetta each year. Mr. Bulka also directs this group.

Of the sporting events at Central, perhaps football is the sport which receives the most ardent participation and the most enthusiastic crowd support. This year, as in years past, Central was blessed with a great deal of athletic potential, but due to injuries our team was blocked from achieving its possible goals. Because of this factor, we were unable to capture the city title, but nevertheless, our team played impressive football and maintained respect and recognition for their school and themselves, many advancing to the ranks of the All-City team.

Now, Coach?

In recognizing our team's performance, we must give credit to the fine coaching of Mr. Martin and his assistant, Mr. Sauer. Under his direction both individual excellence and well-knit teams have been amply produced throughout his coaching career. Also, our seniors are to be commended for their performances, and our hopes go out to a tough group of underclass gridmen who are sure to prove a top contender in the conference next year.

Pictured at right is a typical scene of the action in the stands during football season. When a person enters the stadium with his friends, he temporarily detaches himself from the cares of studies, and through his enthusiastic encouragement he actually becomes a part of the team by the morale he transfers to them.

B-SQUAD FOOTBALL . . .

Our B-squad football team looked very impressive this season finishing with a perfect season record.

Under the guidance of their coach, Mr. Thorson, our B-squad team learns the fundamentals and fine points of the game of football along with the more important qualities of how to win and lose and the ideals of good sportsmanship. As they practice and compete, they develop both physically and morally and the preparations for a game may lead to the greater preparations of the game of everyday living.

Many of this year's junior varsity team will join Central's varsity team next year, and through this opportunity we feel certain that these young men will benefit both their team, their school, and themselves.

Dashin' Dave

In cross country scoring is determined by adding the top placings therefore the winning teams has the lowest score.

Agile Art

A rival triumvirate of sportsmanship. In the field this fall, Centrals Minutemen exhibited a very impressive show of skill and performance. Central has always been noted for its strong running force, and this year the cross country team had an opportunity to add to the laurels established in previous years. The efforts of this year's pacers captured a prized city conference title and a beautiful trophy to adorn the trophy case, joining the many symbols of past performed excellence.

Credit for this year's fine exhibition of athletic accomplishment must be directed into two areas. First, we must recognize the invaluable instruction of our capable coach, Coleman Kelly, for without his refining advice the raw material of natural ability could not be formed into the polished product of a winning athlete. Secondly, credit must be given to the individuals who comprise our high ranking team. A word of appreciation is extended to our seniors and we also extend our best hopes to the underclassmen, upon whose shoulders now rests the responsibility of maintaining our record and reputation.

When will this thing start, anyway?

... VARSITY HOCKEY

Here coach Sauer discusses strategy with seniors Marty Rosen, Randy Nielson, and Bill Unke.

During this year's city conference hockey season, Central was unable to establish the high ranking title in the race for the city title, but nevertheless our pucksters played admirable hockey and maintained high respect for both team and school. Although we showed good potential on the ice this year, we were not always able to play consistently, and the team's progress was often hindered by small weaknesses within its structure.

Despite some heavy losses, our team showed that they could perform brilliantly on a number of occasions. Perhaps the best example of this was when Central defeated a strong Minneapolis Washburn team in exciting overtime action.

Even though they missed recognition, it should be remembered that our team played well this season and we owe our thanks and appreciation to the individual players and to our coach, Mr. Sauer.

One of the least popular among the spectator sports yet the most fascinating and skillful is gymnastics. It encounters agility, balance timing, and coordination. In addition to developing a good physical body, it also develops qualities of good sportsmanship. The individualism of this sport lets one excell to the fullest while also working for the team as a whole.

This year, high school wrestling was initiated into the city conference winter sports program. It is a sport which requires peak physical fitness with both muscular strength and agile, calculated action combined with artful knowledge and a quick thinking mind. This combination of physical and mental strength creates a sports spectacle which involves splendid action and tense excitement. Central's matmen proved to be the foremost city contenders as they crushed all conference opponents and advanced to conquer both city and district titles.

Coach Benepe's abilities were shown in his team's performances this year and we sincerely hope that Central's wrestling success can continue. We will regret the loss of a fine group of senior wrestlers, but from the superb talents shown by underclassmen seem to indicate that next year Central will again comprise one of the city's top competitors.

A special word of thanks is due Mr. Castle, our swimming coach. This was his first year as Central's swimming coach, and he has done a good job of leading our team to undefeated victories. We should also extend our thanks to a fine group of senior swimmers who now hand their towels to a group of equally fine underclassmen who are certain of being tough tankers next season.

This year Central swimmers proved to be in extremely fine form as they outdistanced and outscored all contenders in the city swimming conference. Excellent swimming ability was consistent throughout the team and showed repeatedly through our relay teams and individual swimmers.

Recognition should also be given to Coach Kelly whose patience and guidance has enabled them to obtain their high standing.

Our hopes for future basketball teams rest strongly within the ranks of Central's junior varsity basketball team and with our B-squad coach, Mr. Hoff. This year our junior bucketmen amply showed their abilities on the court, ending their season with a seven win-two loss record.

The value of adequate athletic instruction is probably much more felt in the junior varsity program, since it is the coach's responsibility to train a potential group of varsity players, in addition to instill a sense of a refined knowledge of the particular sport and the principles of good sportsmanship. In all of his coaching, we feel that Mr. Hoff has succeeded in doing this, and we look forward to see his products in next year's basketball lineups.

The 1961 baseball season was not the productive season Central's batmen had hoped for, but Central was still able to maintain a good playing team, emerging fifth in city conference play with a 3-4-1 record. Unfortunately we lost coach Hubal early in the season with an injury and Mr. Maas took over the coaching responsibilities, doing a good job under the circumstances. Our team tried hard and had to battle difficult conference teams with little support from the student body, a situation we hope will be eliminated this season.

Among these was our tennis team under the direction of Mr. Sauer. As the scores below indicate, our team scored almost entire victories over every conference team they met. We are proud to congratulate the work of our team and look forward to the excellent performance of singles players like David Rosenberg and doubles performers like Bob Weinstine, and Dick Leider again in the coming spring season of 1962.

Although the spring sport of golf is considered a team sport, the quality of the individual is exemplified since the player has nothing to rely upon but his own resources and knowledge of the game of golf. Golf is a tense and exciting sport and it is unfortunate that there was not a larger gallery of Central supporters roving the fairways of the city's courses.

This season Central's golfers, like other spring teams, outscored every contender in city conference play. Above this our team advanced to capture the state title with their brilliant team play, an accomplishment which certainly merits great recognition.

"Robots of the world, the power of man has fallen. A new world has risen: The rule of the robots — March!"

The junior class play for 1961 was Carol Capek's "R.U.R." — Rossum's Universal Robots. The presentation was an innovation in high school dramatics—a serious play with a "message", as differentiated from the standard high school repertoire. The play portrayed the evolution of robots from man's slave to his master. Leading parts were played by John Putnam, Chris Cameron, Howard Berkus, Tom Howard, Mike Berkus, John Johnson. SENIOR CLASS TRIP . . .

On November 6, 1961, the class of 1962 boarded the Burlington Zepher at Union Depot. Twenty-four hours later 148 students got off at Penn Station, New York City. The Statue of Liberty, Wall Street, Greenwich Village, the Empire State Building, Broadway, Times Square, and China Town were among the places visited. The next day the group went by train to Philadelphia and saw the Liberty Bell, Constitution Hall, and Betsy Ross's home. From there they went to Valley Forge and toured the grounds. At left Al Gray and JoAnn Rutchick relax on a sight-seeing bus on the way back to Philadelphia.

Washington, D.C. was the next stop. In one day they visited the Capitol Building, the White House, Jefferson Memorial, Washington Monument, Arlington National Cemetery, and the Lincoln Memorial. They also traveled to Mount Vernon and Arlington, Virginia. The next day the group traveled through Maryland by bus, had lunch in Gettysburg, and traveled to the Battlefield at Gettysburg. They then proceeded to Harrisburg where they boarded the train for home. An exhausted but happy group of travelers returned to St. Paul. A yearbook is a wonderful thing. It represents the effort of thirty people, working together on their own time, getting no tangible reward. Every minute of the hours, days and weeks involved in the production of this book was spent after school, in the evening, or on weekends.

And what is the result? 184 pages of material; 1500 photographs selected from thousands; endless paragraphs of copy. But there is a larger result; an image of a school, a portrait of a composite student personality, a record of a year's events.

Special credit goes to our advisor, Mr. Therrien, who with infinite patience, wisdom and encouragement urged the staff on to the completion of their task. He says, "I may forget my own kids, but I won't forget you." We will not forget Mr. Therrien either.

This is our yearbook—this is our headache. It is all over. Put away the aspirin and the copy sheets, set aside the paper cutter, and unplug the adding machine; lock up the safe and turn off the lights. It is all over.
